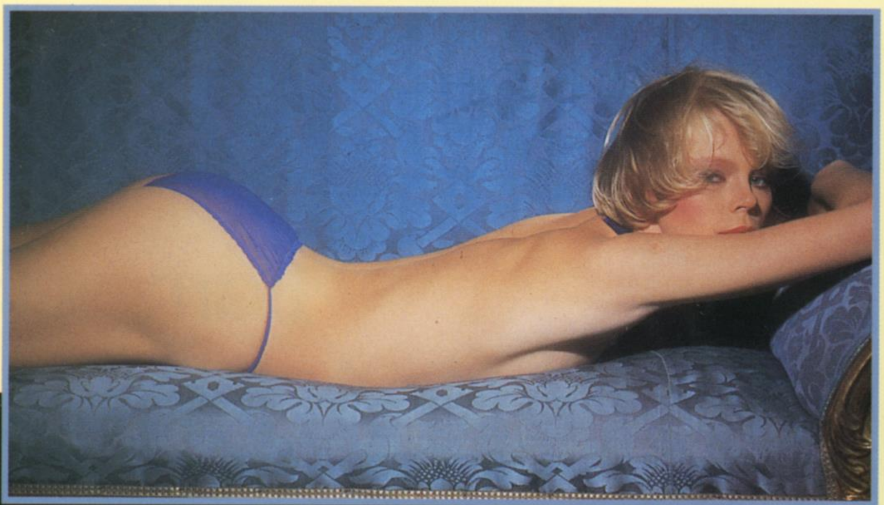
Transplant pioneer Dr Christiaan Barnard pictured with German model Christiane Schulze. The 23-year-old described him as a 'fatherly friend'

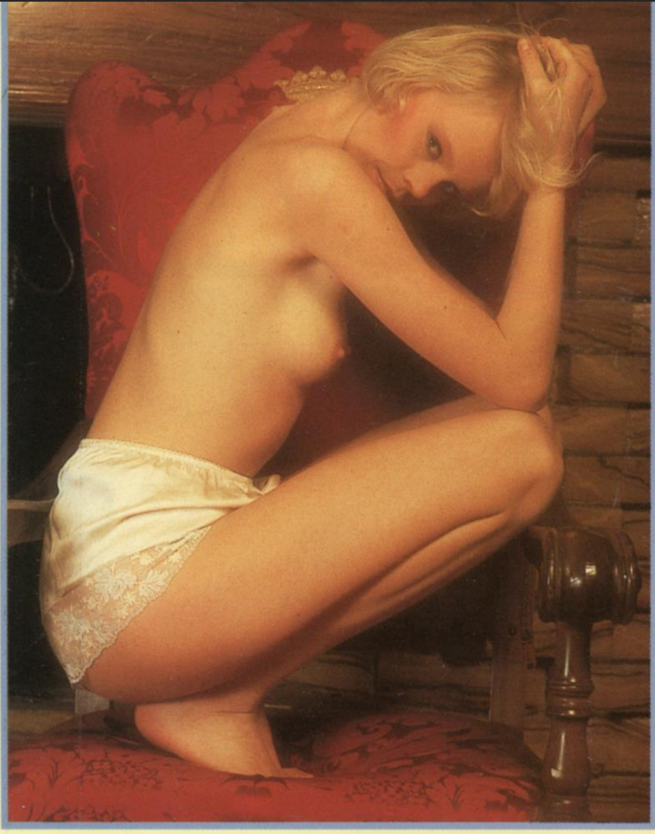
Dr Christiaan Barnard's ex-heart throb

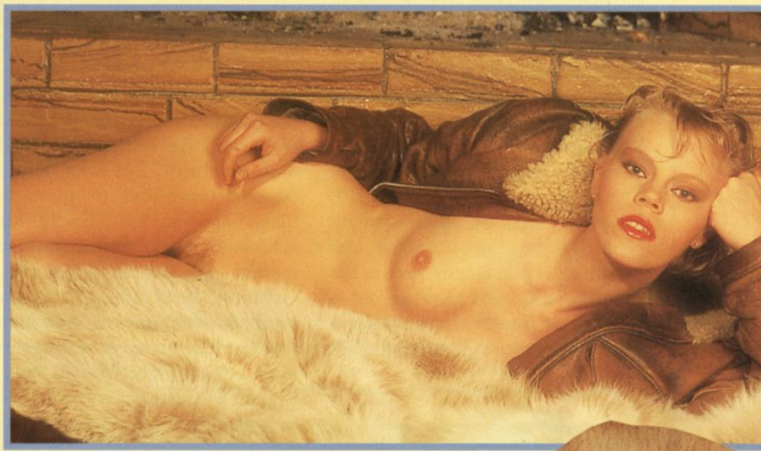
Christiane Schulze

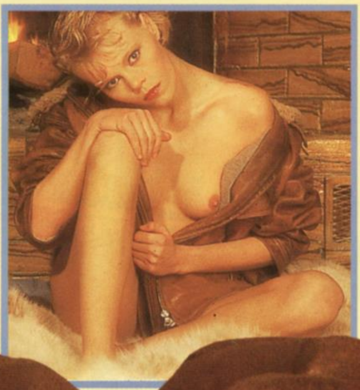


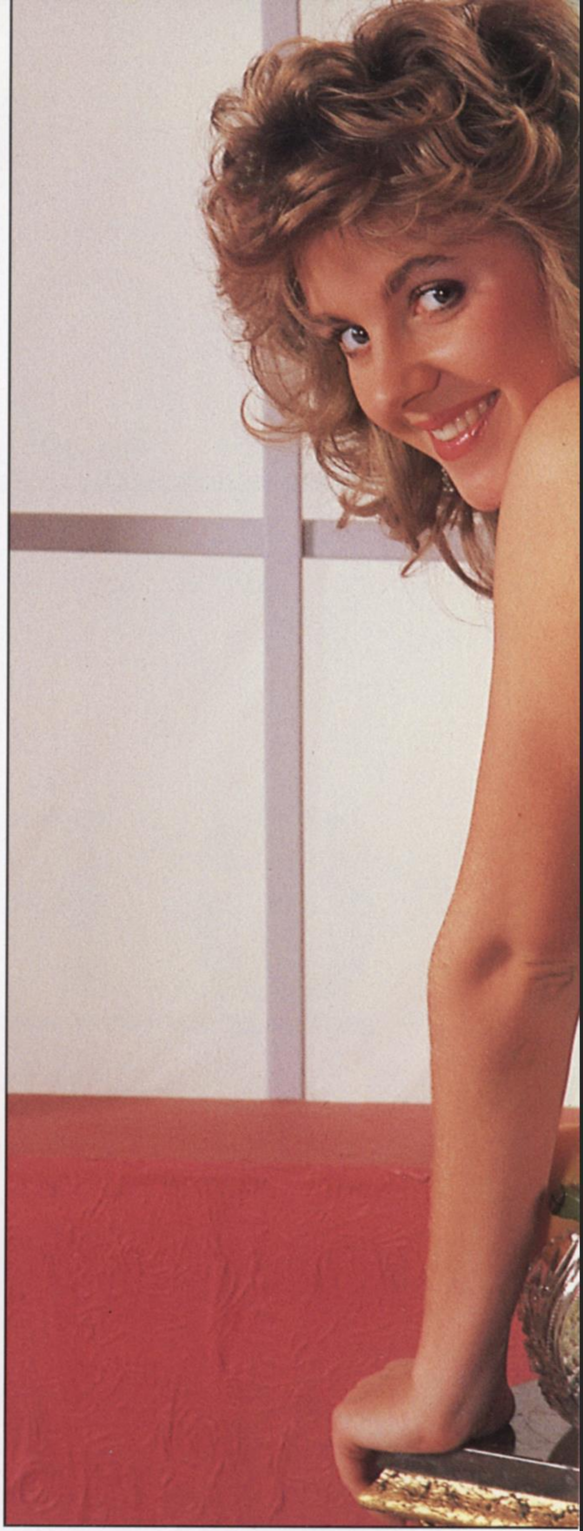
Affairs of the heart have always loomed large in the career of the renowned surgeon Dr Christiaan Barnard. Not only does he have the unique distinction of performing the world's first human heart transplant, but ever since becoming an international celebrity he has been pictured with some of the world's most beautiful women. Just married now, for the third time — to an attractive bride of 24 — he has clearly decided that 65 is an appropriate age to play down his playboy image. Yet barely five years ago, he was enjoying the company of a highly attractive German model, 23-year-old Christiane Schulze.

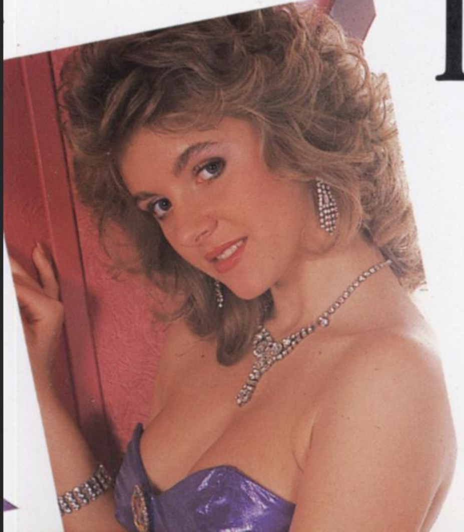
Born in East Germany, Christiane achieved no small celebrity herself as one of her country's top models. But she gave all that up when she decided her future lay in the West and fled, hidden in the boot of a car. Settling in Munich, she became a photographic model. It was there, she told a German magazine, that Dr Barnard showered her with gifts, including several hundred pounds worth of clothes and a deposit and rent for a flat. 'He is so generous,' she enthused. 'I have to thank him for so much. For me,' she added, 'he remains a fatherly friend.'











Rachel Garley

The page three girl you asked to see

PHOTOGRAPHED BY BASIL CRAWFORD-SMITH

When it comes to enterprise, it's hard to fault 18-year-old Rachel Garley. Leaving her home in France at 16, she came to England alone to live in the Northamptonshire village of Earthingborough. From there she soon carved herself a career as a top Page Three model in the Sun.

Her fine 36-24-36 figure ensured she was successful almost at once, and the inevitable move to London followed. There, she also found time to run a wine bar in Crawford Street, popular with pop music and TV stars.

Now her determination has led to working as a model full-time. She's just returned from 12 days in the Bahamas and is shortly off to Mexico on a shoot. She's also breaking into acting. She has a small part in Hawks, the latest film starring new Bond, Timothy Dalton, and has appeared in pop videos and foreign TV commercials. Despite her success, Rachel's interests are still refreshingly down-to-earth. She helps out in her boyfriend's hotel in Victoria but hates the traditional Page Three night club scene. Instead, she'd rather stay at home knitting. 'Don't laugh,' she says. 'I find it very relaxing.' It's also very charitable. Her creations are given free to homeless children.

PAULA

Does the prospect of an all-nude version of the Pirates of Penzance appeal to you? If it included a Polly as pert-nippled as 20-year-old Paula Black then we're sure it would be a box office smash. Paula thinks so too. She's already appeared in three productions, one at school, one in the Somerset village where she was born, and a third at the teacher training college she attends. 'But I always kept my clothes on!' says this 32-22-32 inch student teacher.

It took photographer John Patrick Burgess to bring Paula's fantasy to life — in the Seychelles. 'The perfect place for an open air production,' she enthuses. 'It's a lot warmer than Penzance!' Confidentially, however, she admits that she finds a nude debut much less nerve-racking on a deserted tropical beach than in a crowded theatre. 'I am an old ham, though,' she says. 'I plan to teach English and drama, and then go for auditions during the school holidays.'

Singing and 'hoofing' are her specialities — 'I was the mainstay of the local church choir when I was little.' To keep in trim she keeps to a low calorie diet and a gruelling aerobics programme. 'An ex-boyfriend suggested I make love three times a day instead, because I'd lose up to 200 calories each time. I told him I'd use up far more than that!' She's coy about present attachments. 'I like men who look after themselves but are macho. Pirates by look, not by nature!'

Madelaine

BY JOHN ALLUM

The Highlands of West Scotland are famous for their spectacular peaks and glens. Head towards the Western Isles and the scenery evens out with quiet coastlines and unspoilt harbours. Not necessarily the sort of place you'd expect to find a Mayfair centre girl. But then 22-year-old Madelaine Forbes is not an indoor lass. She'd rather trek across the lonely moorland than be confined to a studio any day.

During the summer, Maddie, as she is known locally, works in hotels around the region. Her new regime is model in winter, work in summer. 'I like bar work, it's a great way of meeting people, even up here,' she says. In quieter moments she likes reading. 'I'm a real romantic — sloppy poetry, that sort of thing.' Are they sexy? 'Occasionally' she replied with a blush.

The BIG BIG stories are in your full-of-fun STAR

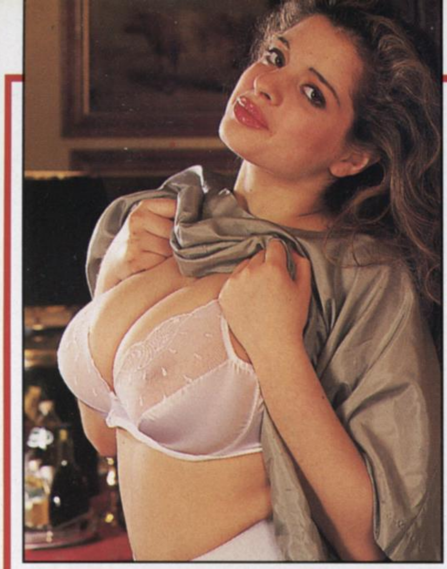
THE REMARKABLE

Natalie Banus



Once in a blue moon a girl combines fresh-faced teenage appeal with the kind of full-blown womanly impact that blows your socks off. Samantha Fox managed it, so did Maria Whittaker. Now it's the turn of the Star's remarkable discovery, nubile Natalie Banus. When Natalie first began modelling, her sultry, Mediterranean looks, and her 40-22-34 figure generated a storm of interest, not least among Mayfair readers. All the more reason, then, that Natalie's first all-nude appearance should be between our pages.

'Natalie is the nicest thing that's happened to me all year,' wrote E Collins of Birmingham. 'She's Britain's sexiest teenager,' enthused M Carter of south London. 'She deserves to be in Mayfair.' While N Oliver of Newcastle nearly ran out of paper: 'Please, please, please, please, Mayfair, use your powers of persuasion on Natalie Banus. Don't let me down!' How could we? And, with the small proviso that her figure should retain a little of its full-frontal mystery, Natalie readily agreed to pose.

JANE

If you think all lady librarians are boring and asexual, think again. Twenty-year-old Jane Cobb has worked behind the counter of a library near Manchester for nearly a year, and she's truly feminine.

'Perhaps I am a "booky" type,' Jane admits, 'I do like serious reading. But don't see why that should affect anyone's sexuality. I can be just as hot as a bimbo who likes Jackie Collins!' As if to prove it, Jane spends her days off revealing her 34-22-33 figure to amatuer lensmen. 'Sometimes when they come in the library after a shoot, they're quite embarrassed,' she said with a grin. 'I'm not, though.' Further proof, should it be required, of Jane's refusal to conform to stereotype comes from her choice of clothing. 'I love what some people would call "naughty" undies,' she insists, 'But don't tell our Head Librarian . . .'

MIRIAM

PHOTOGRAPHED BY SIWER OHLSSON

'Have you seen that TV ad which starts with a view of a gnarled old tree in a forest?' enthuses 22-year-old, 32-22-32 Miriam Elliot, 'and suddenly the gnarled bits move and you see it's a naked girl entwined round the trunk. Then she goes over to a rock, which moves too, and it's a naked man, who is absolutely gorgeous. And the ad ends with them giving each other slow, sexy smiles. It's the bit that happens next that I dream about!'

Gardens have romantic associations for Miriam. 'The first man to ask me to marry him him did it in a garden at a party. He was so keen he wanted to skip the ceremony and go straight to the wedding night!' Miriam dissolves into helpless laughter. Along with a passion for TV ads — and naughty doings among greenery — she loves old jokes — 'the cornier the better. I've gone out with some awful men simply because they've made me laugh.' Form an orderly queue with your joke books now.

Louise

For the fashion-conscious male, 21-year-old Louise Darrow has a hot tip: codpieces. 'We're all straight-laced and Fifties-ish at the moment,' says this 34-22-34 inch beautician from Kent. 'But in five years time everyone's going to be fed up with that. I fully expect things to go Elizabethan — all frills and ruffs and tights for men. At least I hope so, because those are the clothes I like!'

PHOTOGRAPHED BY MICHAEL ANCHER

Born in Folkestone, Louise had ambitions to take up fashion design, but freely admits she 'spent too much time having a good time when I should have been studying for my CSE's!' Instead she became an apprentice in a London beauty salon, leaving her fashion interests as a hobby. 'In fact I've made clothes for almost everyone I know. I specialise in baggy trousers for men; it leaves room to manoeuvre!'

Silks, satins and fur — 'though only very old or artificial fur; I'm an animal lover deep down' — have a special fascination for her. 'The touch of those materials against my skin always gives me goosepimples; it's amazing. I have these terribly rude fantasies about being ravished in a see-through silk négligé as I sprawl on a bed of sable.' Steady on, Louise. Any more talk like that and codpieces won't be needed.
